

Finding Red Hook Owned Items Only Using Catalog Facets

Only RHPL-owned items may be requested until the Mid Hudson Library System resumes delivery. Here is a brief tutorial on how to identify RHPL items.

Refining Your Search (Using Facets)

- To search for an item and see if Red Hook Public Library owns it, go to redhooklibrary.org. Type the title you would like in the “Search the Catalog” search bar on the right hand side.
- As an example we will search for the title “Where the Crawdads Sing.”

- You will get many results from this search that come in all formats (books, movies, audio books, etc.) and from all libraries in the Mid-Hudson Library System.

- You can use the Refine By menu on the left to narrow down your search. To limit to items owned by RHPL select Red Hook under Collection. All Red Hook items that match “Where the Crawdads Sing” will be displayed.

The screenshot shows a library search interface. On the left, the 'Refine by' menu is open, and the 'Collection' section is selected. Under 'Collection', 'Red Hook (4)' is checked and circled in red. The search results on the right show three items for 'Where the Crawdads Sing' by Delia Owens: a book, a sound recording, and an electronic version. The 'Red Hook' collection is highlighted in the results.

- This will show all Red Hook items, of any format, that match the title you searched for.

The screenshot shows the search results for 'Where the Crawdads Sing' filtered by the 'Red Hook' collection. The 'Refine by' menu on the left shows 'Collection' selected and 'Red Hook (4)' checked. The search results on the right show three items for 'Where the Crawdads Sing' by Delia Owens: a book, a sound recording, and a large print version. The 'Red Hook' collection is highlighted in the results.

- Alternatively, limiting by Location will allow you to refine by different sections of RHPL including “Red Hook Adult,” “Red Hook Young Adult,” and “Red Hook Children,” for items that match the title you searched for.
- You can further refine your results by format such as “Book,” “Book on CD,” and “Large Print” or other facets at this point as well.

- Once you've found the item you want, you can check to see if the item is checked in by clicking on the item's title hyperlink.
